

Chen Wang is Deputy Chief Intellectual Property Counsel at E.I. du Pont de Nemours and Company, in Wilmington, Delaware. Her the legal practice encompasses corporate mergers and acquisitions, intellectual property counseling, world-wide patent procurement, freedom-to-operate analysis, counseling related to trade secret protection, IP strategy formulation and implementation, and government research contracts and engages in negotiating and preparing of technology license agreements, supply agreements, technology development/research agreements, government contracts, as well as joint venture formation and dissolution agreements. Ms. Wang has written and given presentations on wide range of domestic and international practice topics in the intellectual property area, from IP strategy formulation and IP due diligence in M&A transactions, IP Licensing, to Patent Cooperation Treaty practice and intellectual property prosecution, enforcement and other forms of protection in China.

She is currently a member of the Board of Directors of the American Intellectual Property Law Association (AIPLA) and an AIPLA delegate to the U.S. Bar – SIPO Liaison Council. She previously served as a member of the Nominating Committee, Chair of the Corporate Practice Committee, Chair of the International and Foreign Law Committee and Chair of the Patent Cooperation Treaty Issues Committee within AIPLA.

Ms. Wang earned her J.D. in 1994 from Northwestern University School of Law in Chicago, Illinois, and her Bachelor of Science in Engineering, Chemical Engineering in 1990 from the University of Michigan, College of Engineering in Ann Arbor, Michigan. She is admitted to the Illinois bar, and is registered with the United States Patent and Trademark Office.