

Shu Ge

Joined State Intellectual Property Office (SIPO) in 1987, working as a patent examiner in the Physics Dept., and then being appointed as the director assistant; switched to the Patent Examination Administration Dept. in 1995, working as the director of the Examination Guideline Division, and latter as the deputy director of the Dept.; being appointed as the director of the Preliminary Examination and Flow Management Dept. in 2005; and worked as the director of the Patent Examination Administration Dept. from June 2009. Getting involved several times in draft and amendment of the Examination Guideline, and used to be a core member of the working group.