Special Counsel

New York

T 212.715.7502

F 212.715.8302

jprice@kramerlevin.com

Jeffrey H. Price works on intellectual property matters, in particular patent litigation in federal district courts and in proceedings before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. In 2015, 2016 and 2020, Docket Navigator named Jeffrey one of the nation's top inter partes review practitioners.

Jeffrey also advises on patent-related matters to ensure that clients have sufficient patent protection and freedom to operate in order to reach their business objectives. He prepares and prosecutes U.S. and international patent applications, conducts patent portfolio analyses, and provides formal freedom to operate opinions. His work involves a wide range of technologies, including semiconductor fabrication and packaging, flash memory, nanotechnology, audio processing, digital imaging, solar power, vehicle control and braking systems, telecommunications, mobile and desktop software, and electronic device manufacturing.

Prior to joining Kramer Levin, Jeffrey served as a semiconductor device engineer at IBM, where he was responsible for functionality and performance of semiconductor products at the transistor level. His work required deep understanding of semiconductor physics as well as the semiconductor fabrication process to drive improvements to the process flow in terms of device performance, defect reduction and cost savings.

Jeffrey also has research experience in the field of optical and photonic devices, specifically in modeling and fabrication of novel devices, including optical isolators and optic modulators. His research employed the use of computer modeling and hands-on fabrication techniques for many types of optical devices, including LEDs, lasers and photonic crystals, on substrates ranging from Si to III-V and II-VI materials, LiNbO<sub>3</sub>, and sapphire.

William J. Thomashower

Counsel

New York, NY

wthomashower@pryorcashman.com

212.326.0811

William Thomashower (TŌMA-shower) is a member of Pryor Cashman's Intellectual Property Group. With over 40 years of experience litigating complex IP cases, he represents clients in state and federal courts, before arbitration panels, and in matters before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO).

Bill counsels global brands, consumer goods companies, luxury goods manufacturers, digital media companies, web-based businesses, entertainment and publishing companies and B2B industrial entities on all aspects of trademark law, including selection, prosecution, policing and litigation. He has extensive experience handling cases involving infringement, dilution, trade dress and false advertising claims.

Bill is a registered patent attorney with the USPTO and advises on utility and design patent validity and infringement matters and has litigated such cases. He also advises on copyright issues, including registration, licensing and infringement.

Additionally, he counsels clients on and has litigated defamation and constitutional issues, antitrust claims and the regulations governing physicians and healthcare providers, including the National Practitioner Data Bank. He has argued cases before New York's highest court, the N.Y. Court of Appeals in Albany, NY.

His recent experience includes:

- Obtaining summary judgment of non-infringement of a design patent for packaging after completing all discovery and expert reports for trial;
- Successfully defending, through appeal, a national internet retailer against a brand owner's trademark and copyright infringement claims;
- Litigating a healthcare federal antitrust case by a radiology practice against a radiology benefit management company formed by competitors;
- Successfully defending a Fortune 500 electronic banking company in numerous patent infringement litigations brought by patent assertion entities;
- Obtaining a jury verdict of non-infringement for a client using a trademark to describe genuine merchandise in a case involving disputed ownership with former partners;
- Successfully halting the attempted misappropriation of a famous New York nightclub's name through an emergency motion for preliminary injunction.

Industry Recognition

Bill is a frequent lecturer and writer on issues involving intellectual property, licensing and legal ethics, among other subjects. He serves on the New York Intellectual Property Law Association's ("NYIPLA") Trademark, Programs and Amicus Brief Committees, where he has co-authored NYIPLA Amicus Briefs to the U.S. Supreme Court. He recently co-authored an amicus brief in connection with a patent for an automobile draft shaft. Bill is also seen as a media source for newsworthy trademark decisions and was recently quoted by Bloomberg Law on a trademark decision from the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. He is also a member of the IP and Litigation Sections of the ABA and NYS Bar Associations.
